Exhibition of Paintings

CLINTON KING

DECEMBER THIRD UNTIL JANUARY FIRST

THE DALLAS MUSEUM OF FINE ARTS

Foreword

The Dallas Museum of Fine Arts is glad to present the works of a young man from our neighboring city of Fort Worth, Mr. Clinton King. Primarily interested in portraiture, Mr. King has frequently caught the characteristic pose and gesture of his subject with an accuracy that is both charming and unusual. Portraiture, however, is not the only string to his bow, for his watercolors and drawings have a variety which shows other sides to his character as a painter. Graceful flower pieces and genre with occasional bold humor are constructed with a nervous, baroque line, faintly reminiscent of a more formal period than our own.

Mr. King has worked in England, France, and Mexico, as well as his own country, and examples of these periods give the exhibition an added interest. Previous recognition in the shape of one-man exhibitions, an invitation to the Corcoran Biennial, and many commissions testify to the general quality of his work.

RICHARD FOSTER HOWARD,
Director, The Dallas Museum of Fine Arts.
